UNIT 8 Movies

In this unit, I will learn to . . .
- talk about movies.
- use the present progressive to talk about things that are happening now.
- make and accept invitations.

1 | Get Ready

What makes a good movie?

A. Do you know about these movies? Look at the pictures and read their descriptions below.

This is a drama about a man who is kind, but not very smart. He does lots of great things in his life, but he only wants to be with his childhood friend and true love, Jenny.

These science fiction movies are very famous. The story is about a young boy who fights in a war against evil. This war is in space and it goes on for many years.

These fantasy movies tell the story of a boy with magic powers. He goes to a special school for wizards, makes good friends, and fights a strong and evil wizard.

B. Read and circle the correct word for each sentence.

1. The first movie is about a (kind / evil) man.
2. He does lots of (bad / great) things in his life.
3. The second movie is about a (child / war).
4. The third movie is a story about (space / a wizard).
5. In the third movie, the boy makes good (friends / movies).
6. The third movie is a (horror / fantasy) movie.

Pair and Share

Ask and answer the question about the movies.

What is Star Wars about?

It's about a war in space.

Ask and answer the question about yourself.

What is your favorite movie?

My favorite movie is Avatar.

Present Progressive with wh- questions

Wh- question words are placed at the beginning. We use these kind of questions when the answer requires extra information. We can't answer these questions with yes or no.

Question word	be	Subject	Verb + ing	Extra information
What	are	you	doing?
Where	am	I	going?
Who	is	she	calling?
When	are	they	coming	to London?
How	is	he	getting	home?
Why	are	we	waiting	here?

For grammar reference, go to Grammar Appendix.

D. Put the words in the correct order to make wh- questions.

1. what / buying? / are / you

_____

2. with? / soccer / who / Mark / playing / is

_____

3. making / when / is / lunch? / she

_____

4. eating? / they / where / are

_____

5. going / to / the / why / party? / am / I

_____

6. to / Tokyo? / how / going / are / they

_____

E. Write a question for each answer. There can be more than one correct answer.

1. Where _____?
   He's going to school.
2. What _____?
   We're dancing!
3. When _____?
   They're leaving now.

4 | Listening

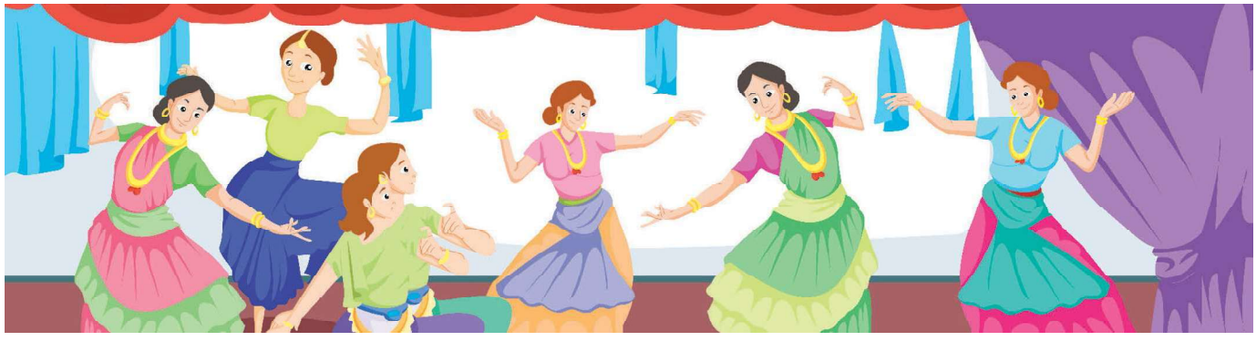

Listening Strategy: Predict

Use the picture to help you predict what you will hear.

- Think about what you know about it already.
- Listen to check if you were right.

Before Listening

A. Look at the picture. Who are the people? What are they doing? Where are they?

B. Look at the words and predict what you will hear about them. Listen to check your answers.

1. dances: _____
2. Bollywood: _____
3. language: _____
4. songs: _____
5. cinema: _____
6. tickets: _____

After Listening

C. What are movies from your country like? Share with a small group.

5 | Pronunciation

Connected words

When the sound at the end of a word and the sound at the start of the next word are the same, the words join together.

He's singing.

She's a young girl.

A. Listen. Underline examples of connected words.

1. They're running.
2. He's studying English.
3. I'm moving to Canada.
4. We're writing emails.
5. It's a famous cinema.
6. They have an old dog.
7. Today is a good day.
8. We can watch the same movie.

B. Listen to the audio and repeat.

6 | Conversation

Speaking Strategy:
Make and accept invitations

To invite someone to a party, you can say:

Would you like to come to . . . ?
Do you want to come to . . . ?
Can you come to . . . ?

To invite someone to dinner or a movie, you can also say:

How about . . . ?

There are lots of ways to say yes, for example:

That sounds great / good. [Or just Sounds great / good.]
Sure!
How lovely! Thanks.

A. Listen to the conversations and complete the sentences. Listen again and check your answers.

1.

Rachel: I'm having a birthday party on Sunday. Please come!

Mike: Thanks. (1) _____. Where is it?

2.

Laurence: I'm getting married. Can you come to my wedding?

Betsy: Congratulations! (2) _____.

3.

Tom: (3) _____ dinner with me this weekend?

Suzy: (4) _____. That sounds great.

4.

Frankie: (5) _____ to my BBQ?

Therese: Oh, (6) _____! Can I bring something?

Frankie: Hmm . . . maybe some salad?

5.

Olivia: (7) _____ a movie after class?

B. Your Turn

Roleplay the conversation with a partner. How would Ed answer the last question?

Your idea: _____

_____

C. Listen to the audio and take notes. Prepare to invite your partner to a party.

Pair and Share

Invite your partner to a party.

Can you come to my party on Sunday?

Sure! That sounds great.

Can I bring something?

No, just bring yourself.

7 | Reading

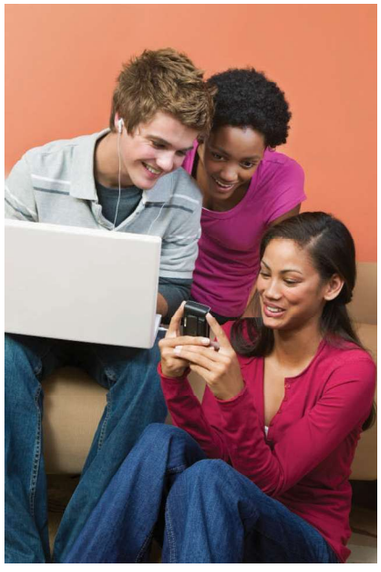

Reading Strategy: Predict

Use the pictures to help you guess what you will read.

- Ask yourself who and what you can see.
- Read to check your guess.

Before Reading

A. Look at the pictures and guess the kind of websites they are looking at. Why do people like these websites?

B. Read the text and underline information that matches your guess.

The Video Generation

Do you remember Gangnam Style? Do you like to see cats and dogs doing funny things? Online video sites now get one billion visitors every month. These days, lots of teens watch more online videos than movies. Why do they like these sites so much?

First, the videos are short. You need around two hours to watch a movie and you need money to go to the cinema, but you only need a few minutes to watch a video on your tablet.

Second, there are so many different videos! People upload 300 hours of videos every minute. It's easy to stop a boring video and find a better one. There are comedies, horror, and much more.

Third, everyone can upload videos to the Internet. It's interesting to watch things from everyday life all around the world. You can also find videos from your friends or famous actors, too.

Fourth, you can write a comment to say what you like about a video. A lot of people like chatting about what they watch and finding out about other videos.

Finally, you can download videos to learn new things. People upload videos about everything, from school subjects to fashion. You can also listen to teachers from universities. And it's all free!

10_ELL_SB_L01_U08.indd 82 06/11/17 22:36

After Reading

C. There are five reasons why video sites are so popular. What are they?

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

D. Complete these statements about yourself.

1. How often do you watch videos online? _____
2. Do you upload videos on social media? _____
3. Do you chat about what you are watching? _____
4. What do you learn by watching videos? _____

8 | Writing

Writing Strategy: Write an invitation

Write an invitation to ask someone to come to a party. Invitations can be in the form of letters, emails, or messages.

It's important to say the place, day, date, and time on an invitation, so the person knows all the information about your party.

A. You want to invite someone to a party. Think about these things and make notes.

- Why are you having a party?
- Where is the party?
- What day and date is the party?
- What time does the party start and finish?
- Do you want people to bring anything?

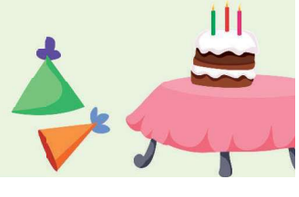

B. Look at the invitation. Circle the place, day, date, and time.

Dear Hanna,

Please come to a BBQ party for my birthday! It's going to be in my garden. My address is 16 Petersen Road, Springfield. It's on Saturday 11 July from 6:00 p.m. to midnight. Please bring some food or drink.

I hope you can come! Please let me know.

From Viveka

C. Write an invitation to a friend using your notes from Activity A.
